

Clearly ClearStream Maximizing your Return on Investment

Successful event recycling and litter control requires a production line mentality. If one part of the system is missing, the whole operation will grind to a halt.

Sustainable recycling with maximum return on investment requires:

- Affordable start up and cost efficient operations.
- Resources that can be shared community wide.
- Visible recycling that people enjoy.

Make your Community Happy

Seeing is believing and a clear bag allows attendees to see the results of their participation. Successful recycling at special events reinforces the positive and wholesome benefits taught in school and reinforced at home with recycling education.

Make Your Operations People Happy

No Special Equipment Required!

- Easily transported, set-up and stored
- Easily serviced
- Easily monitored at a distance
- Easy on backs
- Easily shared with volunteers
- Easy clean-up

Make Your Volunteers Happy

ClearStreams are easily loaned to organizations that use their own volunteer labor. The result is an environmentally aware community that takes responsibility for recycling at their own events.

Make Your Voters Happy

A one-time investment in ClearStream comes with a lifetime guarantee on frames. The system produces marketable material without costly processing and earns discounts based on avoided disposal costs. Your administration's environmental commitment is reinforced year after year without additional investment. It all adds up to a positive experience and return on investment for your community.
